

TRACK 01 · WELCOME JOURNEY · CLAUDE IMPACT LAB MILANO · 3 OCTOBER 2026

OneVisit

Arrive at the registry desk with everything you need, checked against the City's own sources, and close the procedure on the first visit.

The problem

19,755

people registered in Milan arriving from abroad in 2024:
42.1% of all new registrations

City open data · ds1959

42.1%

of foreign users said the online residence service helped little or not at all, against 28.2% of Italians

ds1702 · 2022 survey

2.3%

left unhelped by online certificates: online can work

ds1512 · 2021 survey

A missing document at the desk means booking and waiting again, and a slot lost for someone else.

What we built

For citizens

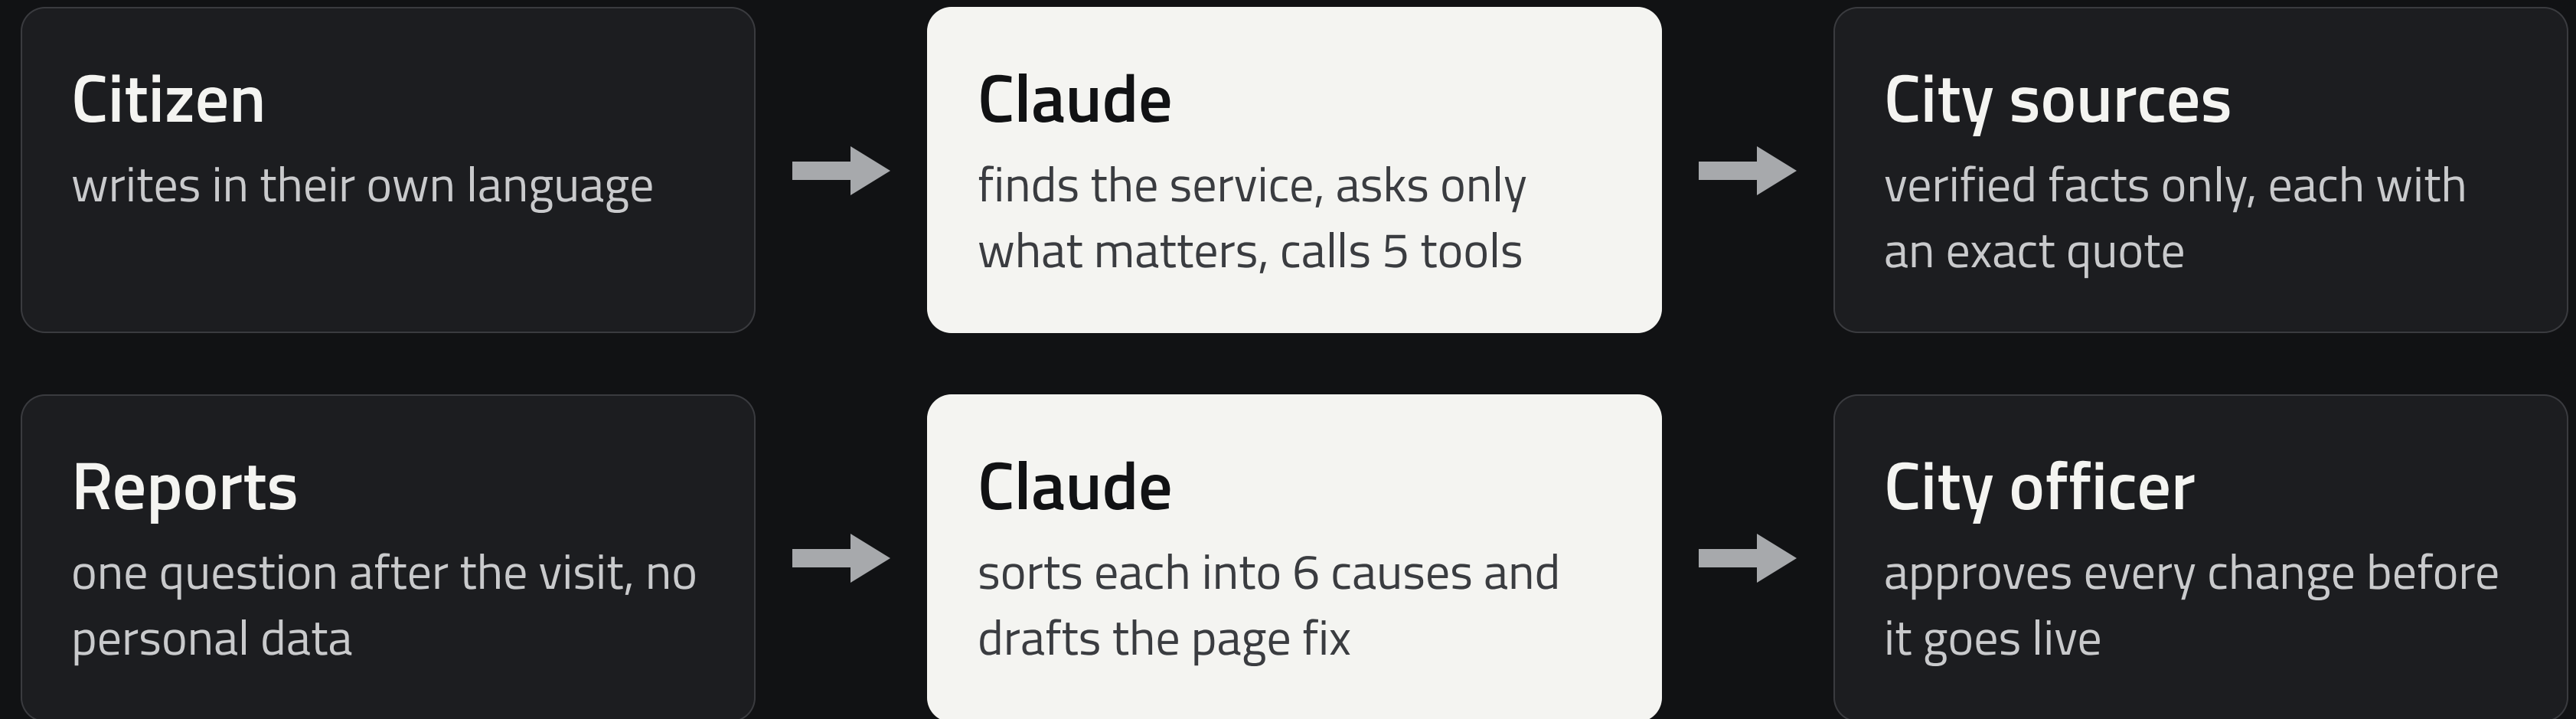

1. Describe your case in your own language
2. Claude asks only what changes the answer
3. A checklist with a source on every item
4. The nearest registry office, from open data
5. A calendar reminder three days before
6. After the visit, one anonymous question

For City staff

- Real City statistics
- Errors found in the City's office data
- Reports grouped by cause
- Page fixes drafted by Claude, approved by an officer

Live at onevisit.streamlit.app. Start screen in English, Italian, Arabic, Chinese and Spanish; Claude answers in the language you write in.

Where Claude works

Switch Claude off and only raw data is left: no case understood, no questions, no checklist, no fixes.

Facts with sources

Only verified facts

Claude states a City rule only if a tool returned it, with its source id, like [ds549].

Unknown, said out loud

Items without a verified source show as unknown, with a pointer to comune.milano.it.

Checked by code

The validator fails if a quote is not word for word in the saved official page.

A human decides

OneVisit never says documents are valid. The desk officer decides; a City officer approves every fix.
